Review of polling districts and polling places in Dartford 2014

The reason for a review

Under the Representation of the People Act 1983, the Council has a duty to divide the borough into polling districts for the purposes of parliamentary elections and to designate a polling place for each district. It also has to keep these arrangements under review.

The last statutory review in Dartford was carried out during 2011 although electoral arrangements have been monitored annually since that time and there have been some changes to polling districts and polling places where this has proved necessary. The next statutory review must be carried out before January 2015 which is why this review is being undertaken now.

The arrangements made for parliamentary elections are also used at other elections.

Definitions

A polling district is a geographical subdivision of an electoral area, that is, a UK parliamentary constituency, European parliamentary electoral region, county division or district ward. A polling place, which must be designated for every polling district in the parliamentary constituency, must be a location within the area of the district, unless special circumstances apply.

In addition the law requires each parish (or ward thereof) be a separate polling district. Thus the review is confined to considering the subdivisions within the parliamentary electoral area, which will determine which voters are allocated to particular polling places and thereafter to each polling station (the room/building where electors vote).

By definition the polling district has to be co-terminus with the Parish boundary. Therefore the review of Parish arrangements is limited to the provision and adequacy of polling stations. The review cannot concern itself with electoral area boundaries or warding arrangements, which are determined independently of the Council by the Boundary Commission for England.

How the review is conducted

In general terms, the Council announces that a review is to take place. Once the Council has proposed polling districts and polling places, it consults the (Acting) Returning Officer, who makes representations on existing and proposed polling stations and may comment upon the Council's proposals. The Council publishes it's and the (Acting) Returning Officer's proposals and invites comments. These are considered before final decisions are made.

The full Council will decide on polling district boundaries and the designation of polling places.

The consultation includes seeking comments from people who have particular expertise in relation to access to premises or facilities for persons who have different forms of disability but any elector or organisation within the borough may make representations. Although not specifically required in law, the consultation will include local political parties and elected representatives.

Timetable for this review

Notice of start of review on the Council's web site and at the Civic Centre and Dartford Library - 1 June 2014

Publication of the Council's and (Acting) Returning Officer's proposals – 1 July 2014

Comments from consultation on proposals required by 8 August 2014

Report to full Council meeting – 6 October 2014

Arrangements come into force when the next revised Electoral Register is published - 1 December 2014

Making comments

The (Acting) Returning Officer is proposing to keep the existing polling stations and to make minimal changes only where circumstances require. The Council's proposals reflect the (Acting) Returning Officer's view that there is currently no need to change these arrangements and therefore that there should be no changes to the existing polling districts. However in order to allow the (Acting) Returning Officer some flexibility in terms of changing a polling station location should an existing polling place be unavailable for use at any election or need to be moved for any other reason it is proposed to define each polling place as a geographical zone of 250 metres from the normal polling station location. This was agreed by the Electoral Provisions Sub-committee on 11 June 2014 as the basis for public consultation. The agenda, reports and minutes of the meeting are available on the Council's web site at

<http://committeedmz.dartford.gov.uk/ieListDocuments.aspx?CId=349&MId=2374>

If, however, someone wishes to suggest alternative arrangements they should write to the Electoral Services Team at the address given below or complete the online questionnaire by following the link to the Council's elections page www.dartford.gov.uk/elections. The questionnaire appears on the same page as this consultation document.

Comments do not have to be restricted to alternative proposals; comments that support the Council's and the (Acting) Returning Officer's proposals are welcome in order to receive a balance of opinions.

Comments should be made in writing to:

email: electoral.registration@dartford.gov.uk

The closing date for receiving comments is 8 August 2014.

Throughout the review, all working papers, minutes of meetings, and correspondence will be available for public inspection at the Civic Centre.

All papers and responses to the consultation exercise are required to be published when the review has been completed. Anyone that does not wish their comments to be attributed to them should state this when submitting their response.

The Council's and The (Acting) Returning Officer's proposals

The Council's and the (Acting) Returning Officer's proposals are contained in the tables at the end of this document and the accompanying maps. All existing polling stations have disabled access. Electoral Commission guidelines suggest that no polling station should be allocated more than 2,500 electors who may vote at that station and currently none of the Borough's polling stations exceeds this figure (when the number of people with postal votes are taken into account). The (Acting) Returning Officer does not consider there to be a need to materially change the existing arrangements but any changes are listed in the tables. By way of illustration the number of electors allocated to each polling station is shown in the table along with comparative figures for 2011, when the last full review was carried out.

Guidelines

The following considerations have been taken into account when drawing up the proposals. Comments made during the consultation should have regard to these. The first two are required by electoral law; the others are taken from the previous reviews and are guidelines, not strict rules.

- 1) The Council must seek to ensure that all electors have such reasonable facilities for voting as are practicable in the circumstances.
- 2) The Council must seek to ensure that so far as is reasonable and practicable every polling place is accessible to electors who are disabled.
- 3) Ideally the polling place should be in its own polling district.
- 4) Ideally no polling place should be shared by two wards.
- 5) Where possible “natural” boundaries should be used, e.g. railways, major roads, waterways.
- 6) Polling places should be “logical”; that is, electors should not have to pass another polling place to get to their own polling place.

The tables

Each ward is dealt with separately. For existing polling arrangements, the tables show:

- The polling district
- The number of electors as at 2011 and 2014
- The polling place (which is a geographical zone of 250 metres from the normal location of the existing permanent polling station; in the case of a temporary polling station the polling place is designated as a mobile unit within the polling district)
- The existing polling station location
- Disabled access, including where this is achieved by use of a temporary ramp
- The Council’s and the (Acting) Returning Officer’s proposals

A map showing the ward and polling district boundaries, the proposed polling place and normal location of the polling stations is attached to each table.

The role of The Electoral Commission

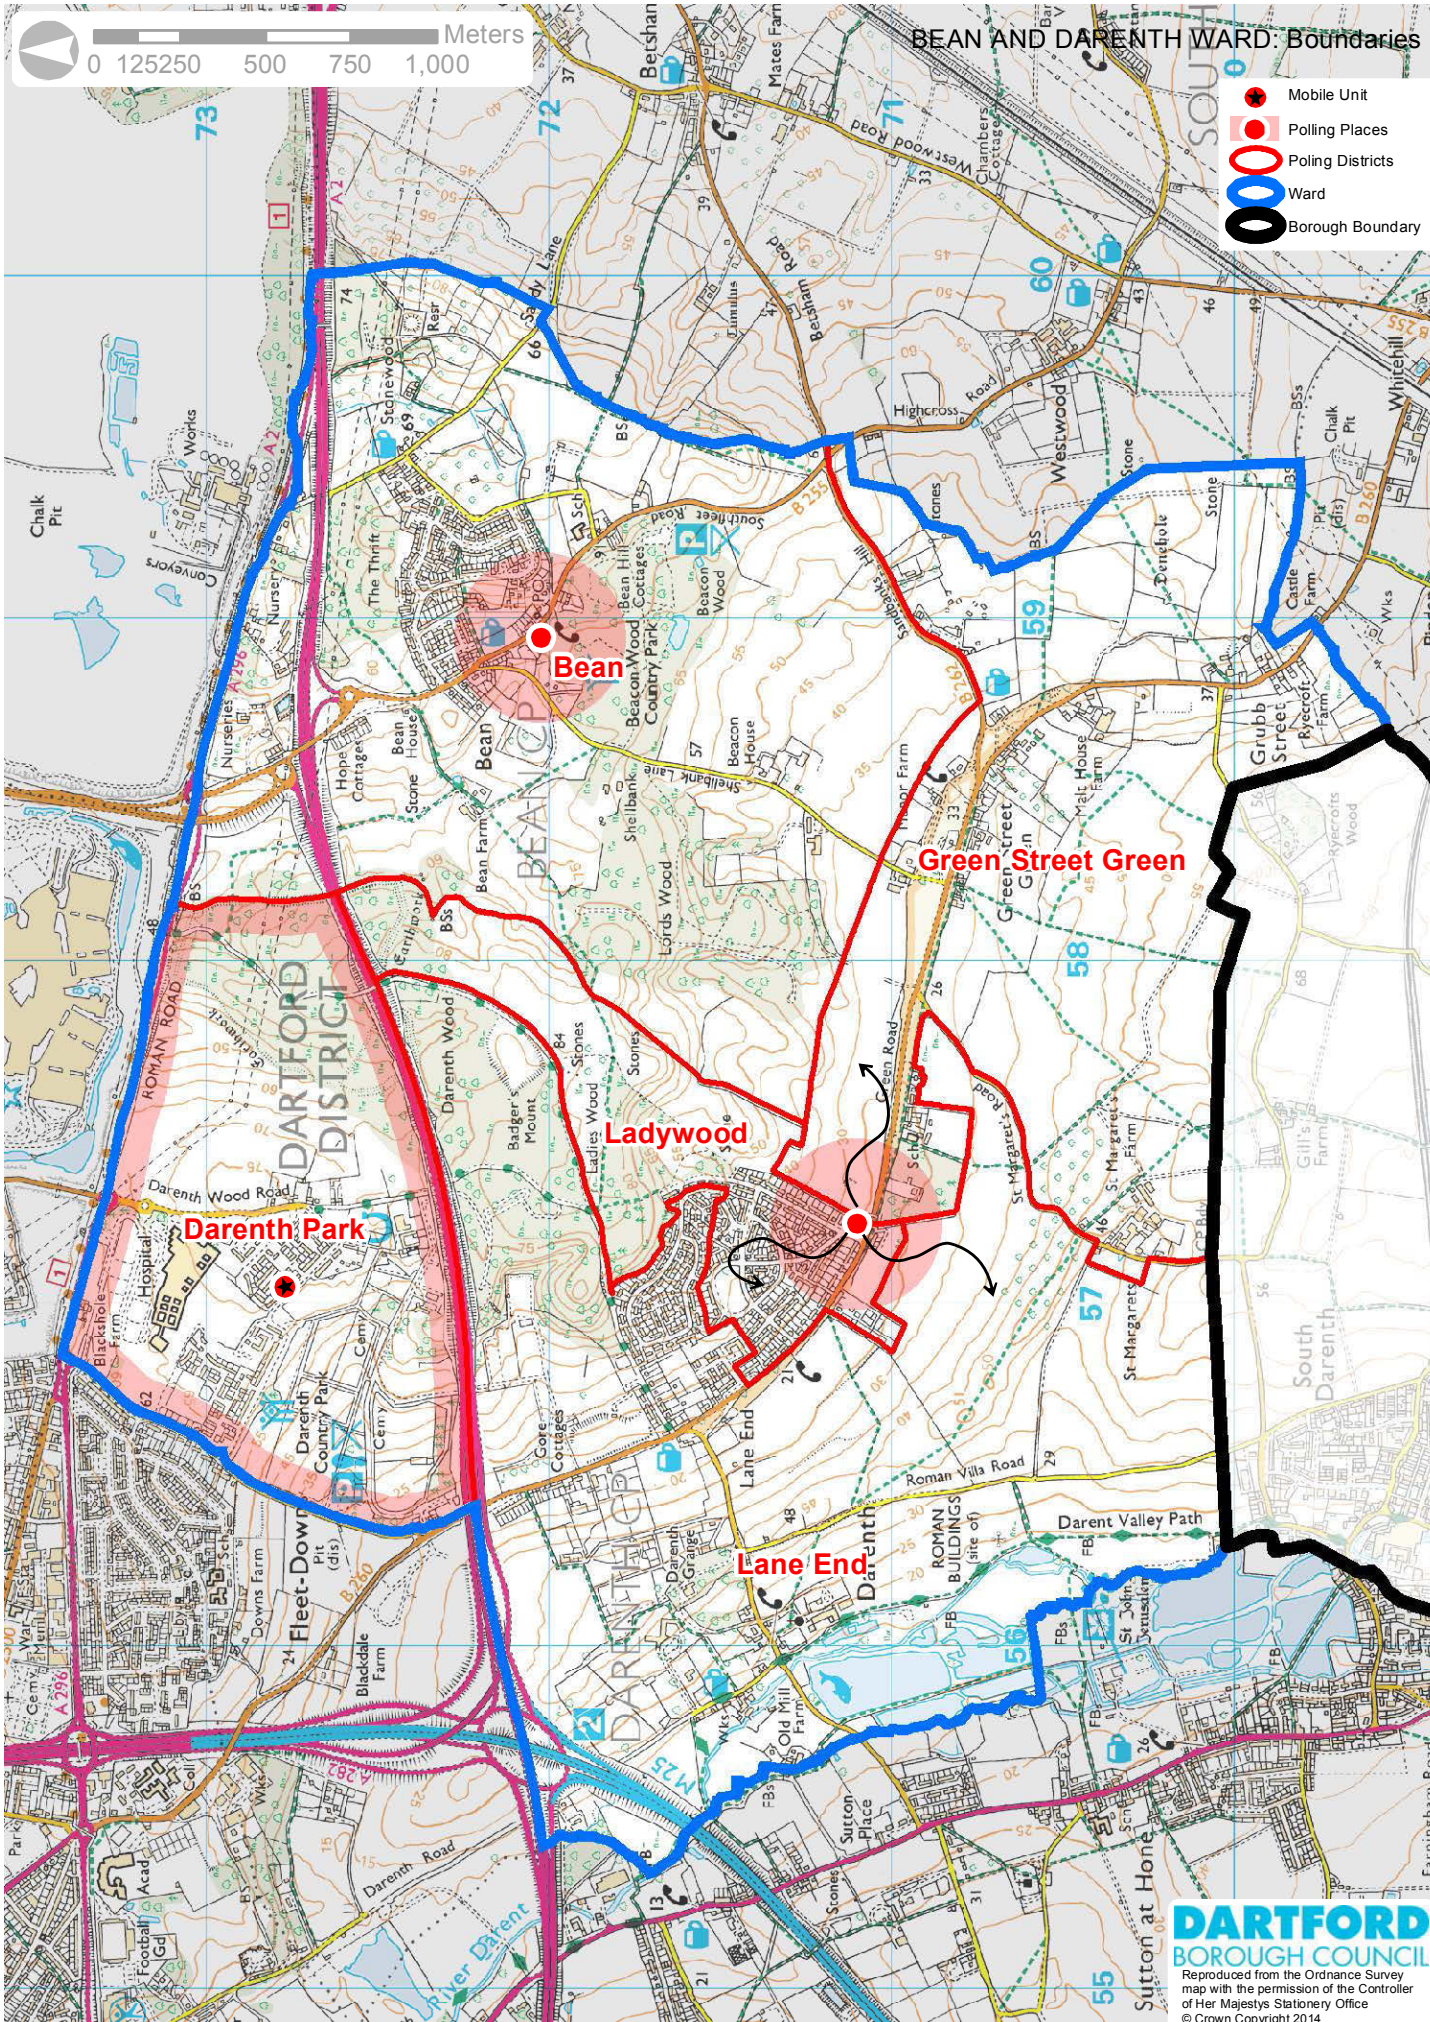

The Commission has no role in the review process itself. However, it can consider comments if people do not think the review has met the reasonable requirements of electors or taken sufficient account of the needs of disabled electors.

The following people can ask the Commission to review the Council's proposals once the Council has published its final arrangements:

- 30 or more registered electors
- any person who made comments during the review
- any non-electors who have expertise in access to premises or facilities for disabled people.
